FUPH IN STORAGE COULD BE USED UP

MOVING? Please use term inside paper and give full information. Nothing list to run on Friday for following week.

There is seldom a single day goes by that the U.S. Government does not receive the fact that there are piles and piles of food and grain and other stuff stacked in storage, and it's bills pile up into the millions & millions of dollars just to keep it out of the weather. It seems like someone out to be able to move that into channels where it will save some money and also do some good.

Now, L. and Hehoh! Ag Secretary Block may have the loophole needed, thanks to Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas. However, we must make haste to add, the idea makes much too much sense for Congress to make a quick move. Dole figures a bill he recently introduced would work, and it just might improve the situation as well as make a few farmers around the world decide Americans are not all that bad.

Fed Cattle Uneven, Mostly Steady, Firm, Hogs Lower Monday

At the central markets on Monday fed steers and hogs were mostly steady to a bit stronger, however, there were exceptions and lower prices reported at St. Louis and St. Joseph with weaker prices at Peoria. Muddy cattle were again a factor in the trading and the lower end of the fat cattle quotes usually represented varying degrees of mud. The days receipts got nearer normal and were 3,400 above last Monday's storm tossed situation. Slaughter cows were sharply lower at most markets in this report and bulls were largely steady. Monday's estimated cattle kill at 124,000 was 5,000 under a week ago but 29,000 ahead of last year. Carcass beef opened about steady in Monday's limited trading, following the weakness reported late last week.

Hog prices were lower by 50c to $1.50 or $2 off at some markets. Monday's hog supplies were larger than a week ago by about 6,500. Monday's estimated hog kill was 280,000 or 26,000 below a week ago and 54,000 above the same day last year. Price trends, prices on choice and prime steers and hogs and the mixed good and choice grades on good to choice Holstein steers and U.S. 1-3 hogs scaling 200-270 or 280 lbs included.

OMAHA fed steers fully steady, hogs firm to 25c higher. Steers $59.50 to $62.35 and $59 to $58.25. Holsteins $58 to $58.50. Hogs $58.50 to $61 and $58 to $58.50. Hogs $1 to $1.25 lower at

Feedlot Trade Steady, Stronger on Monday

Amarillo, Feb. 16 (F-S) — Slaughter steers and hogs steady. Sales on 4,000 slaughter steers and 3,100 hogs. 12,000 head sold for the week to date. Steers: Good and mostly choice 2-3, 70-85% choice, 1000-1125 lbs. 62.50-63.00; mixed good and choice 2-3, 1000-1100 lbs. 61.00-62.25; 2 loads at 101.00 in the meat. Load good and choice 2-3, 1150 lb. Holsteins 91.00 in the meat. Hogs: Good and mostly choice 2-3, 000-975 lbs. 60.50-61.00; about 10 loads sold at $9.00 in the meat. Mixed good and choice 2-3, 875-950 lbs. 58.50-60.00. Pen good and choice 2-4, 1050 lb. heifers 58.50.

January Placements at 1.51 Million Up 4% From Last Year, Marketings Gained 8% Last Month, 8.05 Million on Feed

Cattle and calves on feed February 1 for slaughter market in the seven states preparing monthly estimates totaled 8.05 million head, up 14% from a year ago and 7% from February 1, 1981, according to the Crop Reporting Board. Inclement weather in the high plains reportedly slowed weight gains and caused some higher than normal death losses.

Marketings of fed cattle during January totaled 1.64 million, up 8% from both 1982 and 1981.

Placements of cattle and calves on feed during January were 1.51 million, 4% more than in the seven states last year and 18% greater than January 1981. Net placements of 1.38 million are about the same as last year but 18% above January 1981.

Other disappearance totaled 130 thousand head compared with 81 thousand during January 1982 and 110 thousand two years ago.

In the High Plains area death losses in feedlots are apparently running into the thousands. Cattle insurers report the losses are the worst they have ever experienced in that area. One firm reported known cattle losses as high as 3,000 to 4,500 head and others had similar experiences. Severe losses of weight and condition added to the losses of feeders since most the feed eaten was used to generate body heat and the stress in the cold weather and muddy feedlots took an additional toll. The recent winter storms have been termed the worst in memory for cattle feeding operations by many observers at the scene and despite the effort to maintain marketings at reasonably high levels one of the big factors in losses has been the loss of tonnage of beef.

FCA Reports Farmers, Ranchers Meeting Loan Commitments "Well"

Farm Credit Administration reports for the third quarter of 1982 show "farmers and ranchers are meeting their loan commitments remarkably well in an adverse period, but credit quality statistics have weakened and some stress is evident in all loan servicing categories," said FCA Governor Donald E. Wilkerson.

After 8 years of continuous growth, loan volume shrank in August for the second month-to-month decline in 1982. Volume in the Banks for Cooperatives (BCs) accounted for much of the weakness, dropping at an annual rate of 15% for the first 9 months of 1982. Volume at Production Credit Associations (PCAs) and Federal Land Banks grew more slowly than in 1981.

Repayments and collections showed only moderate weakness, Wilkerson said. Land Banks were somewhat behind the same period in 1981, but PCAs improved slightly and BC collections and repayments were stronger. Renewals and refinancings of short-term debt accounted for slightly more of the Farm Credit System loans than in the same period of 1981. PCA

Commodities Comment Week Ending February 11, 1983

An explosion is the only way to describe this week's price action for all markets. After early week softness, prices for stocks, grains, metals, and livestock moved sharply higher on hopes of another cut in the discount rate. Paul Volcker, Chairman of the Federal Reserve, stated early Wednesday morning that lower interest rates were coming in the months ahead. That was all the news the bulls needed and a sharp two day rally ensued. Heavy volume was experienced in all markets from grains to metals on that bit of news.

For information contact the American Chianina Association, Box 890, Platte City, MO 64079, 816/481-2808 or the sale manager, Stanley E. Stout Auction Services, Inc., Rt. 1, Box 129-A, Linwood, Kansas 66062, 913/723-3261.

On the Chicago Board of Trade, grains were quite weak until mid-week. Then they too got caught up in the "bullish" fever in regards to another discount cut. As a matter of fact, on Thursday, I can't remember the last time I've seen corn go limit up! It was up 6 1/2 cents, beans up 2 1/2 cents, and wheat down 1 1/2 cents. At this writing March corn closed at $2.74, March soy beans $5.95, and March wheat $3.42. In totally lost as to price direction of grains. Call me if you have a good idea.

On the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, the cattle market continues to exert leadership in the meat complex. The feeder cattle market looks great and is moving into the low to mid 70's area. Hogs and pork bellies were much lower earlier in the week only to find support with most other markets on Thursday and Friday. The cattle market looks great and the pork complex very tight. I still like the long side of all the meat.

Again, try not to buy strength. Wait for a pullback then wade in. At this writing, March bellies closed at $79.47, April hogs $54.20, April live cattle $63.25 and April feeders $68.70.

The metal complex and financials have been totally confused. I still feel the metal market is tired and close to a sizeable break. These particular markets are being pushed around by conflicting fundamentals. On one hand, the large Federal deficits and higher interest rates are extremely bearish. On the other hand, the psychology is very very bullish... trying to stop rising metal prices is akin to stopping a freight train. I'm not long term negative towards precious metals and the financial futures but cautious trading should be observed. Watch the U.S. dollar for clues to price direction. At this writing April silver closed at $14.64, April gold $510.00, March Bonds $74.04 and March T Bills $91.91.

If you would like further information on hedging or speculating in the futures market, please contact Jerry F. Welch at (814) 721-9200, Prudential-Bache Securities, 231 S. Bemiston Suite 1400, St. Louis, MO 63105.

Beef cooking demonstrations and recipes will be conducted and distributed during the "Grazing Hour."

The National Livestock and Meat Board of the Beef Industry Council and how it relates to beef promotion, research and education will be represented by its chairman, Elmar G. Moore. The Texas Cattle Feeders with "Feeding Cattle in Texas" will follow with "The 1983 Beef Market Outlook" by Dr. Ed Uvacek the final part of the program.

Healey Bros. Flying L Hereford Sale at Davis, Okla., Mar. 7

Davis, Okla. — Dozens of frame 5 and 6 Herefords and even a few frame 7's make up the featured part of the Healey Brothers annual Hereford production sale at their ranch at Davis, Oklahoma on Monday, March 7th.

Burke and Skip Healey, owners of Healey Brothers Flying L Ranch, are celebrating their 33rd year in the purebred Hereford business with this year's sale. Their '83 offering will feature full possession interests in two of their herd sires who stand 60" at the hip. They are also selling full possession interests in four of their other herd sires as well as 32 yearling prospects.

This year 21 yearling heifers will be featured in the female portion of their offering, which is usually one of the best Hereford female sales in the nation. Fifteen producing cows from the herd will also be offered for the ninth consecutive year. The Healeys roll 20% of their producing cow herd each year.

Bill Aimed at Horse Thieves

Austin — Senator Ted Lyon, D-Rockwall, says that the number of horses stolen in Texas has been on the rise for the past few years and that he has introduced legislation that will help solve the problem.

"One of the reasons we've had so many horses stolen recently is because of the growing demand for horse meat overseas and in the United States," Lyon said.

There are currently four processing plants in Texas that slaughter horses. "The process is slaughter the horses upon receipt, dispose of the remains immediately and then ship the meat to markets throughout the world," Lyon said.

Presently, there are no inspectors at the slaughter plants to check for stolen horses. Subsequently, a horse can be stolen during the night and then sold for slaughter the next morning.

"With such a quick operation the horse owner has virtually no chance of recovering the animal alive," Lyon said. "It is possible that a registered animal worth several thousand dollars might end up as processed meat."

An unsuccessful bill was introduced in the last session of the legislature that would have provided for a 72-hour holding period at the slaughter plant. This would allow time for law enforcement officers and horse owners to inspect the animals.

The slaughterers argued that they did not have the space available to hold the horses for that period of time.

"The Horse Protection Act that I have introduced calls for the Texas Animal Health Commission to authorize the Southwest Cattle Raisers Association to station uniformed inspectors at the four slaughterhouses for the purpose of inspecting all horses to be slaughtered," Lyon said.

The inspectors will collect a small fee from the deliverer of the horses and will primarily be concerned with identifying stolen animals.

They will also keep detailed records of descriptions of the horses, identification of the person from whom the horse was acquired and the license number of the vehicle which delivered the horse for slaughter.

This information will then be placed on the Southwest Cattle Raisers Association's state-wide computer network for easy reference.

"Any horse that the agents suspect might have been stolen can be held 72-hours for further investigation," Lyon continued. "The Horse Protection Act should lead to a significant decrease in the frequency of this crime and to the prosecution of more thieves."

Cattle on Feed Below Earlier Years

Collegio Station — More cattle fed on January 1 compared to a year ago — to no one's surprise — but level is still below recent years.

Although the number of cattle on feed in the 13 major cattle feeding states showed a sharp gain January 1, the number is still below levels reported at the beginning of 1976, '77, '78, '79 and '80, points out Ed Uvacek, economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"The main thing we have to remember in comparing figures for 1982 is that we had extremely low levels of cattle on feed and low placements last year," says Uvacek.

While the number of steers on feed was up only 7 percent from last year, heifers were up 28 percent and cows 10 percent. "This means that the quality of beef coming from these cattle numbers is going to be considerably better than last year when the steer to heifer relationship was more equal," notes the economist.

Not placements during the last quarter of 1982 were up 17 percent from the same period in 1981, but were below levels in 1976, '78, and '79. Uvacek notes that October placements last year were up sharply due to a large number of drought-type, light calves that went into lots. These will require a much longer feeding period.

Uvacek estimates feedlot marketing for the first quarter of 1983 to be about six million head, up 11 percent from a year ago. Although that would be the largest level in three years, it would still be below the number of fed animals marketed during the first quarters of 1976 and '79.

"While we're starting the year with more cattle on feed than a year ago, it should be no means expect a big market glut in the months ahead," says Uvacek. "We still have a long way to go to reach the cattle feeding levels of the late '70s."

There's a bigger fool than the fellow who knows it all; it's the fellow who argues with him.

A "little ear" on feeder calves has become an important marketing factor in recent years.

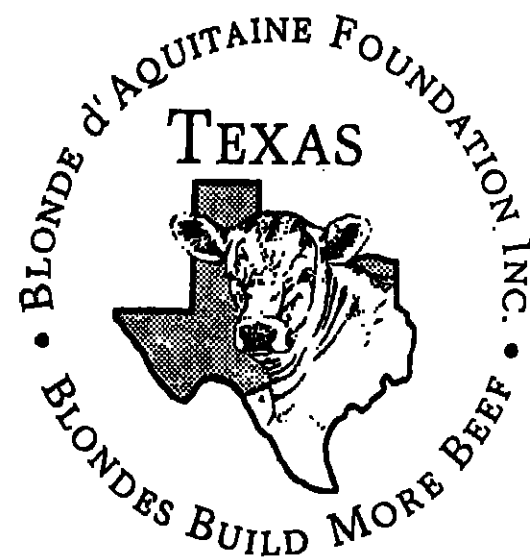

Some feeders are demanding that their order buyers select calves with some Brahman in their genetic make-up.

We think one of the best tools available to put a "little ear" on your feeder calves is to turn out a Beefmaster bull.

Contact the N.B.A. for a list of breeders who have breeding age Beefmaster bulls for sale.

The Harry L. English Brahman herd of Lufkin, TX is based on over 30 years of constructive Red Brahman breeding. It's one of the founding Red Brahman herds of east Texas. Mr. English developed this prestigious herd basically on Cherokee breeding. He purchased several groups of top females from the late C. E. Youkum, owner of the Cherokee Ranch. He infused top Clifford, Garcia, McKellar, Doggett and H. K. bloodlines through the years. The English herd is one of the highly respected well known herds, both nationally and internationally. The individuals that make up the herd represent the most sought after bloodlines in the Brahman industry today. Any Red Brahman that carries the Harry L. English brand carries a symbol of excellence recognized by all Red Brahman breeders.

Harkness Hayporter Introduces New "FARMLIFT"

Kaufman, Texas - The latest labor-saving tool for farm and ranch use has been announced by Travis O. Harkness, founder and president of Harkness Hayporter Company.

The new versatile "FARMLIFT" is a combination Fork Lift and a high lift Hay Spreader 3 pt. tractor attachment. Commercial fork lifts have been in use a long time, but due to the high cost and limited terrain capability of the small tires for farm and ranch use, they are not practical. The new "FARMLIFT" costs a fraction of the commercial lift, and being mounted on a tractor, it has all terrain capabilities. You will be surprised to see the benefits this 3 pt. attachment will provide for you at a fraction of the cost of a fork lift. Fits all category I and II tractors. Requires 2 spool external hydraulic connections and controls. The "FARMLIFT" like other Harkness Innovative products is sold, serviced and guaranteed factory direct.

Free literature is available. Contact T. O. Harkness, Harkness Hayporter Company, Route 1, Box 95-A, Kaufman, TX 75142, 214/932-6498.

Cattle and Antelope May Share Costly Disease

Fort Collins - Researchers in Colorado and Wyoming are studying antelope to see whether the animals get and transmit to cattle a disease that causes infertility in cattle.

"When wildlife and domestic ruminants share the same habitat, they may be swapping a disease back and forth," said Dr. Michael T. Collins, Colorado State University microbiologist. Collins is part of a multi-agency team that has proved that antelope acquire and keep the specific organism that causes leptospirosis in cattle.

The disease, common to cattle and costly to the livestock industry, recently has shown up in some wild antelope in Colorado and Wyoming, Collins said. It apparently is transmitted through contaminated water supplies.

Collins, Colorado Division of Wildlife researcher William J. Adrian and Dr. Tom Thorne of Wyoming Game and Fish Department are studying how the disease progresses in antelope. The National Animal Disease Center in Ames, Iowa, is helping with the analysis.

Antelope fawns, raised from birth at the Wyoming division's Sybille facility north of Laramie, were infected with the disease at age 3 months last August. For the past six months, Thorne and his assistants have drawn blood and urine samples, which were analyzed mostly by CSU microbiologists.

Research so far has shown that antelope could transmit the disease to cattle, said Thorne, a wildlife research

Researchers knew that cattle transmit leptospirosis through their urine, either by direct contact or by contaminating shallow, alkaline water sources where the disease-causing organism can survive and be picked up by other animals. There is no proof that antelope transmit the disease to cattle. However, research suggests that the disease organism survives in antelope urine, so antelope are a potential source of the disease, Thorne said. "The incidence is so much higher in cattle that we are sure cattle are the original source. Cattle brought the disease in."

Thorne said leptospirosis progresses differently in antelope than it does in cattle. While many cattle lost their appetite and appear sick, "antelope have shown no clinical symptoms of the disease."

This spring, the team will give the disease to 10 pregnant antelope does to see if it causes them to abort, as it does cattle.

The project began in 1980 when Colorado wildlife researcher William Adams observed the disease in antelope through a system the Colorado division developed to monitor diseases in game animals. Each year licensed hunters receive blood sample collection kits in the mail. They are asked to obtain a blood sample at the time of their kill and to mail it to the state's Federal Cooperative Brucellosis Laboratory.

Adrian approached Collins for help after his personnel saw positive test results in antelope blood samples, Collins said. Collins, Adrian, epidemiologist Dr. John S. Reif and graduate student Theresa Ann Gallegos studied cattle and antelope blood samples. Tests showed that the two species get the same disease.

To confirm the results, they reproduced the disease in tame antelope housed at the Wyoming facility. The Wyoming Game and Fish Department raises tame wildlife for research.

"You have to work with tame antelope because wild antelope never settle down and adapt to captivity," Collins explained. Because stress is a contributing factor to most diseases, "the stress factor would complicate the research."

Knowing that the two species can share the disease will help wildlife managers and cattle producers, Thorne said. "For instance, if managers want to transplant antelope to an area and these antelope test positive for leptospirosis, the managers probably would not transplant the antelope if cattle and antelope in the area don't have the disease. You don't want to transmit a disease into a clean area."

Researchers also can inform wildlife managers in the field on how the disease progresses and its effects on herd mortality and reproduction, Thorne said.

Also, if several infected antelope are found in an area, "we can tell stockmen and they can take precautions to protect their cattle," Thorne said.

Collins said it's important to learn the role wild animals play in disease of their domestic neighbors because this role can complicate efforts to control diseases. "For instance, if antelope can transmit leptospirosis, you might get rid of it in cattle but the antelope could give it back."

Make Better Round Bales With Dimeco Tucker Wheels

It is now possible for most makes of round balers to be equipped with Tucker Wheels. The 1983 models are adjustable in width as well as wheel tilt angle to compensate for variable hay and field conditions.

These wheels increase pick-up width by two feet or more and tuck in the thin uneven and often windblown edges of the windrows. The increased width will also allow you to rake two normal size windrows side by side thus eliminating the zigzag driving and neck twisting

First Federal Approval For Permethrin for Livestock Pest Control

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has granted federal approval of Atraban Insecticide Ear Tags for control of certain flies and ticks on cattle, including lactating dairy cattle.

The Atraban Ear Tag registration represents the first EPA approval for the use of permethrin (the active insecticide ingredient in Atraban Ear Tags) for direct application to livestock.

Permethrin (the active ingredient in Atraban Ear Tags) is a highly active residual insecticide with low mammalian toxicity. Further, it possesses the properties for which natural pyrethrin is well known: a wide spectrum of insecticidal activity and non-persistence in the environment.

The Atraban Insecticide Ear Tag is an example of the significance of the that accompanies round hay baling. Tucker Wheels help you form heavier bales with square ends and less field waste.

The Tucker Wheels are easy to install. They are entirely bolt-on, require no welding, cutting or drilling. The product has a money back guarantee if you are not completely satisfied.

permethrin discovery. Permethrin is contained within the plastic ear tags. The normal grooming movements of the livestock slowly, continuously, and highly effectively control the highly effective ear tags up to three weeks as directed. Atraban Ear Tags are used in control of ticks and aid in control of stable flies.

The new Atraban Ear Tags are a bright yellow, strong triangular shape, with the proven and safe Allflex Tagging System. Atraban Insecticide Ear Tags are a product of Cooper, Winthrop Health Division, Burroughs Co., 520 West 21st Street, Missouri 64108. They are supplied by Cooper animal ducts.

Farm & Ranch Show Events March 4, 5, 6

Designer fashions made from Texas natural fibers will take over a portion of the second day, Saturday, March 5, during the Southwest Farm and Ranch Exposition.

Ann Vanderpoorten, Clothing Specialist, TexasAgriSource Extension Service, has announced that the Natural Fibers Fashion Review will be held Saturday afternoon at 4:00 p.m. in the Tarrant County Convention Center Theater.

This is the twelfth year for this exciting showcase of apparel created by home designers. There will be four divisions in the contest: mother and child; daywear; evening wear; to include formal and cocktail dresses; and a special division for former Grand Champion Award winners.

Each complete ensemble must be made of a minimum blend of 50 percent cotton, wool, or mohair up to 100 percent natural fiber.

"Silk and linen are not considered as natural fibers for the purpose of this contest," Vanderpoorten said.

Each ensemble entered in the contest will be designed, made and modeled by the contestant, with the exception of the child's garment.

Attendance at the Natural Fibers Fashion Review is free and open to the public.

The fashion review is just one of many activities held during the three days of the Southwest Farm and Ranch Exposition.

In addition there will be, on Friday, a New World of Agriculture Forum featuring top horse breeders and horse management specialists, in a program designed to update all horse enthusiasts on the latest techniques in breeding and horse management.

Also, there will be a Future Farmers of America Tractor Mechanics Contest on Friday, with FFA Chapters from schools all over the state competing for prizes in a three tier contest with finals for the event being held in the Tractor Pull Arena at 6:00 p.m.

A spokesman for AgriData Resources, Inc., the Milwaukee-based operators of AgriStar, said that weekly results would be available for electronic access by system users each morning after the close of the futures markets.

"The PIK program and the level of farmer participation in it is expected to have a major impact on farm prices and the general short term economic health of agriculture," according to David Skoloda, AgriData Editor-in-Chief.

The U.S.D.A. has placed a news blackout on sign-up statistics until March 22, well after the sign-up deadline of March 11. "The AgriStar electronic survey should provide a reasonable indication of large farmer intentions regarding PIK and at least a glimpse of the likely final statistics," Skoloda said.

"The economic implications of that change are enormous. The sign-up level will be a major factor in grain markets and we want to insure that 'Farm Futures' readers and AgriStar users are fully informed of the potential impact."

The main attraction will be the Southwest Farm and Ranch Exposition, with over 200,000 square feet of the latest farm and ranch supplies needed by farmers and ranchers throughout the Southwest.

In connection with the Southwest Farm and Ranch Exposition, there will be a championship horse, truck, and tractor pull each evening of the show. The horse pull will be a first for the Southwest and will feature Belgians ranging in teamweight from 3,600 pounds to 4,600 pounds. There will also be a class of four wheel drive modified trucks pulling each evening, in addition to the classes of hot-rod tractors. Tickets for the tractor pull may be ordered from the Southwest Championship Tractor Pull, Box 5243, Arlington, Texas 76011 or by calling Metro 265-0789. All locations of Ticketron will handle

Horse, Truck and Tractor Pull tickets. In 1976 engraver Jean Papillon became the first person to print wallpaper in matching, continuous patterns. Land For Sale? Call Classified

AgriStar, an electronic business information and communications service for farmers, ranchers, and agribusiness today announced plans to electronically monitor the week by week progress of farmer sign-up to the U.S.D.A.'s Payment in Kind (PIK) program.

Better Business Practice Seen In Preconditioning

Las Vegas - Cattlemen should take advantage of preconditioning programs in order to become better businessmen and improve profit potentials, two industry leaders said at the National Cattlemen's Association convention.

Gordon McLean, president of the North Dakota Stockmen's Association, said the value of preconditioning has been dramatically proven on his own farm. His enthusiasm was shared by George Hall, president of the Oklahoma National Stockyards, who said higher prices are being paid for preconditioned calves. "Feeders now recognize the increased value of preconditioning, and are willing to pay for it," Hall told a special forum on preconditioning sponsored by Halston Purina Company. He urged cattlemen to utilize all the technology available to them.

For his part, McLean said that calves weaned in November from the 100-cow herd on his 3,500-acre farm in Gilby, ND, actually showed growth during a time most other cattlemen would have expected weight losses. He attributed these gains to the adoption of better nutrition.

"We always did take good care of our calves. We were gentle with them at weaning, and gave them just about all "These explanations made me realize more fully that our home grown rations cannot compete with that these researchers were able to put into a complete feed," McLean said. It was then decided to try Preconditioning Receiving Chow, a pelleted complete commercial ration, feeding it free choice to his calves for the first three weeks after weaning.

"Because of its palatability, the calves really went after it. And because it's pelleted, calves couldn't do any sorting." Results, he added, were impressive.

"We only had one calf get sick in the first seven weeks after weaning. We treated it, and the calf recovered completely," he reported. In addition, he found that in the 21 days immediately following weaning, his calves gained an average of 46 pounds at a cost of only 42.6 cents per pound of gain.

Was it worth the cost of labor involved? "My calves threw top market prices the day we sold them," he said, "and our buyers went way over the top market price that day."

Higher Prices

Seeing top dollars paid for preconditioned cattle isn't something new to George Hall. "Records on most of the 20,000 calves that go through our yards every week show that preconditioned calves come out way ahead in prices paid, and in performance," Hall reported.

"I recall one lot of preconditioned calves, for example, that was shipped some 550 miles north of Oklahoma City," he said, "and they arrived with only an average shrink of 8 percent."

Hall said he has been noting an increase both in the number of preconditioned calves going through his yards and in the demand for them. "Buyers are calling us more often to see if we have or expect to have preconditioned calves for sale," he explained. "This usually happens when a feeder specifically asks the buyer to look for preconditioned calves."

One reason feeders want these calves, he suggested, is they know they can eliminate costly treatment, since preconditioning already covers that. In addition, calves can be expected to gain more weight on fewer days of feed. With that in mind, Hall added, it's clear why feeders are willing to pay a little more for preconditioned calves, provided they have been certified.

"It's just plain good business," he concluded. "Simply, your customer - the feeder - is willing to pay you more for a superior product."

Ectiban® Insecticide Tape Available For Use

A convenient new device for summer-long fly control on cattle is now available from (ICI) Americas Inc. The new product, Ectiban® Insecticide Tape, attaches to existing ear tags, providing summer-long control of horn and face flies on cattle.

This convenient form of fly control allows the cattle to carry their own insecticides, but is "easy on the ears." Unlike conventional insecticide ear tags, there is no need to puncture the cow's ear. This eliminates danger of infection.

CAPS

Just send us a rough layout along with your logo, the style (winter or summer) and cap color. Normal delivery is 4 weeks after receipt of order.

the animal's back and shoulders by normal head movement. Extensive testing shows the tape provides effective fly control all summer.

Another advantage of the new insecticide tape is that it allows an existing ear tag to serve double duty for identification and fly control. There is no need to double tag or cut out old tags, and no danger of infection. The Ectiban Insecticide Tape needs no special application equipment.

Ectiban is a synthetic, pyrethroid, a proven ingredient in fly control. It combines the long-lasting insecticidal activity of permethrin with low toxicity to animals and humans. Ectiban does not leave harmful residues in meat or milk.

Ectiban is also available as a premix spray for livestock housing and direct application in some states under 24(c) registrations. Federal registration is required for direct application on beef and dairy cattle, swine and poultry for the 1983 season. For more information contact C. A. Stuph & Thangs

Dole's scheme calls for sharing this abundance with our friends and trade partners overseas, after first taking care of th' needy in our own country. This would be a sort export payment-in-kind program. This bill would make available food commodities, especially dairy products, to state and local agencies to feed th' poor and needy people in th' U.S. USDA has estimated that th' first year of this plan would move upwards of $1 million of which 90% would be dairy stuff like butter, cheese, powdered milk, etc.

Then th' plan would dip into the grain stocks, like corn. It is indicated that by unloading 2% of our surplus CCC corn 66 million pounds of poultry meat and 47 million pounds of turkey could be produced and channeled into th' hands of th' needy. This sort of thing or to eliminate some food stamp business and also maybe stem some of crookedness in that program. Th' plan calls for use of about 68% of th' surplus soybean hoard and 100 million pounds of wheat flour from th' International Emergency Food Reserve.

With prospects rather grim for any great increase in export sales of surplus commodities and th' fact that there will be new crops produced next summer and fall, gittin' shed of these surplus stocks just might help farm prices to some extent.

As we said earlier, this idea makes far too much sense to interest th' politicians very much, but it sure would appear to be worth a try and another possibility is th' fact it might save some.

Welfare dollars at the same time.

Ever thine, The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk notes where Sen. Bill Bradley warned Congress th' other day that those turnrins who owe our banks all of those billions & billions may git together form a "Debtors Cartel" and all jist tell folks tryin' to take a hike if we twist their arms too much tryin' to git 'em to pay a little on account. Could be. Dunk figgers when Phil Gramm spread enghed th' field in that District 6 election in Texas last Saturday it must have been quite a shock for Jim Wright and Tip O'Neill and th' rest of th' Party. When Gramm asked President Reagan to call Jim & Tip and tell 'em he was on th' way back to Washington it got a bigger laff than th' boss of John Henry Faulk's funnies. Thassall, Brotherr!

Houston - Longhorn cattle, like Texans, are a breed of their own. And the romance, mystery and value of the Texas Longhorn are exactly what got cattle breeders "Red" McCombs of San Antonio, and Charles Schreiner, III, of Mountain Home, hope to convey when they host "The Texas Legacy Show and Sale," Texas Longhorn cattle auction as a kick-off to Rodeo Week in Houston, on Friday, February 25, 1983 at the Westin Galleria Hotel.

More than 1,000 of the country's most prominent cattle breeders and wealthiest business and social elite are expected to attend the event that will begin with an afternoon investment seminar to include a panel of bankers, tax consultants and other business professionals. That evening, a black-tie preview party and seated dinner set the stage for guests to bid on 50 Texas Longhorn cattle as well as fifteen collector items and Indian art. A sizable amount of the money raised will be donated to a Houston charity (to be named).

"Most Texans don't realize that the Texas Longhorn breed was almost extinct at the turn of the century. Twenty years ago there were only 2,500 registered Longhorn cattle in the United States," commented McCombs, a noted Texas Longhorn breeder with extensive business interests including ownership of the Denver Nuggets professional basketball team. "But, within the past five years there has been a jump in the number of Longhorns being registered. For many professionals, the Longhorn industry is a profitable hobby," added McCombs, whose prize Longhorn bull, Classic, was syndicated for $1 million in 1982.

Schreiner, of the family-owned Y.O. Ranch, is recognized as a pioneer in preserving the Texas Longhorn breed and was founder of the Texas Longhorn Breeders Association of America in 1964, remarked, "It is a never-ending job to preserve, protect and promote this part of Texas history." Schreiner also owns the largest herd of Texas Longhorns in the country.

In its support of the rebirth of the Longhorn cattle industry, "Texas Legacy" celebrates this tradition. The cost per person is $100.00 which includes a preview cocktail party, dinner and the auction.

Cracker Jack Baros SA511, ("CJ") was added to our program last spring when Dale attended the Single sale at Sargent, Neb. CJ was our choice of the entire Single offering and was a member of the grand champion class at the 1982 National Western. He was also the second top-selling bull at the Single sale.

CJ is sired by Loma Lanes Cracker Jack 12J and is a paternal brother to such great bulls as Nitro, Prime Race, Oscar and, of course, Dr. Spock-whose popularity as a show bull and a sire is nearly unmatched in the Angus world.

CJ's dam is out of Columbus Adventure 310, long recognized as one of the truly great breeding bulls.

Selected for flawless pedigree, structural soundness and his outstanding mother, he is becoming a key part of our breeding program. His service is a figure in this sale.

Performance Tested Brangus Bulls Go for $1445

The first performance tested Brangus bull sale was held at the Livestock Performance Center on February 14, 1983. A very good set of young, useful bulls were performance tested, and along with performance information, a panel of four judges consisting of Randy Ward of McAlester, OK, Gary Bruns of Ft. Stockton, TX, J. C. Eckert of Mason and Dan Kinsel of Cotulla used visual appraisal to make their placings.

The bulls were broken down into two classes: bulls born in 1982 and bulls born in 1981, with 101 bulls grossing $145,915 to average $1445.

Gibbel Brangus of Midland had the champion pen of 1982 bulls, and Willow Springs Ranch of Burton consigned the champion pen in the 1981 division. The Willow Springs champion pen also had the top gaining bull. This was also the top gaining pen, and was picked the overall grand champion pen of bulls.

Topping the sale at $14,600 was an October 1981 son of Tiny and out of an Anna daughter. He was bought by Dr. Joe Berry, San Antonio. He was consigned by Vineyard Cattle Co. of Wharton and had a weight per day of age of 2.92.

Kevin Junghans of Midland, OK gave $10,000 for a 650 son out of a Maestic daughter. This bull was a December 1981 bull with a weight per day of age of 2.57. He was consigned by Blocker Brangus of Cat Springs.

The third high selling bull of the entire test, consigned by Willow Springs Ranch was a Signal son with a weight per day of age of 2.93. He brought $5000 going to J. R. Williams, Barksdale, TX. Willow Springs Ranch also consigned a Titan son that brought $3000 going to Jess Young of Corsicana.

He had a weight per day of age of 2.93. Volume buyer was Tracy Thoms, Plainville, KS. Sales manager was Pierce Sales Company and auctioneers were Bert R. Ruben Reyes.

Performance should be the corner stone of a breeding program and that's why we place our emphasis on birth weights, weaning weights, yearling weights and weight per day of age as well as the calving ease, milking and mothering ability of the Dam when we are making our breeding decisions.

SANTA GERTRUDIS BREEDERS INTERNATIONAL

BOX 1257
 KINGSVILLE, TEXAS 78363

Santa Circuit

By RUDDY SMITH

Santa Gertrudis Ski Expo '83 was a rip-roaring success. Those of you who missed it this year — get ready for '84!

Not only was the "Ex Officio Breed Improvement Committee" in session on the slopes, but fun was had by all. The only thing that got bruised was a few prizes when we all took a tumble in the snow. "Ol Go Ahead Anderson" (whose name later was changed to "twelve hour chicken pox Anderson") should be running some pictures in the Santa Gertrudis Journal on the Ski Expo. The way Bob got his last name was that he got tired of keeping up with the other "ski kings" and conjured up the chicken pox in order to have a day of rest. When the "Ex Officio Breed Improvement Committee" wasn't in session or otherwise busy, "Hot Doggers" Carol and Porter Rodgers were leading the charge down the mountain. The "style" award would have to go to Janice Ford and the "Big Bear" award to Dan Ford. Dan not only looked like a bear coming down the slopes but he was dressed the part — in brown from head to toe.

Mossy Oaks First Annual Production Sale is set for May 19 at the ranch in Bellville, Texas. Dan Ford has invited Ben Alexander, Bill Deagan & Sons, Rabbs Creek Ranch and Wasson Ranches to be guest consignors. I went through the cattle that Dan is selling and he is offering some cattle out of the top of his herd. There will be some double poll cattle as well as humped cattle. Some of the offering carry the services of Alexander's Christmas 1117, the sire of Massey 07 and Mayfair 810 along with Chaparras 410 both of which were National Grand Champion bulls.

The Holiday Inn in Brenham will be the sales headquarters for the Mossy Oaks Sale as well as the Tri-Star Sale on May 20th and the Mid-Coast Spring Sale on May 21st. This should be a week you won't want to miss on the golf coast.

Shelby Hughes has started to work for S.G.B.I. and is living in Kingsville while Pat and the kids are staying on in Kentucky until school is out. I ran into Shelby at the Fort Worth Junior Show and he mentioned he hadn't been home since the first of January. He was fixing to head out that way to classify in that area. He said that when he got to Auburn, Kentucky, the second thing he would do was put his suitcase down. Look out Pat!

The Kentucky Santa Gertrudis Association is planning to hold their Kentucky Show and Sale again in Bowling Green, Kentucky on July 30. Garry Heister is the Sale Chairman. Plans are for the same format as last year. A futurity where all sale cattle show and sell followed by a Junior Heifer Show. Preceding the futurity there will be a College of Knowledge.

Things are starting to shape up for the Southern Classic Sale at the All-Bamo Ranch on April 23. There are 46 consignors from 15 states. Some of the outstanding bulls are L&L Farms "Poll Mule 1," which is the first poll son of "Mule" to sell at public auction. Bob White is selling his proven senior herd sire "Texel" who is an own son of Congrove 25. Diamond S Ranch is selling an own son of "Rocky Christmas."

The majority of the females will be 3-in-1 packages. Many of these are win-win packages. If you haven't already made plans to attend, I would urge you to do so. This year's sale has the makings of being the hottest thing East of the Mississippi.

At the recent Fort Worth Junior Heifer Show, Sara Witz of Brenham, Texas had the Grand Champion female and her Nine Bar bred heifer. Chris Dunn's heifer was named Reserve Grand Champion. Chris topped this off by being named Best Show Person.

The Eldon Flowers Memorial Fund has been established to honor this outstanding Santa Gertrudis breeder from Miami, Texas. Eldon died December 7 from injuries received when the pickup truck he was riding in was hit by a train in Miami. The memorial fund is being established to honor his memory at the National Junior Heifer Show each year. The award will be in the form of a trophy which will be presented to the youth who exhibits sportsmanship, friendliness and preparation of Santa Gertrudis cattle. You can contribute to this fund by sending a check to the Eldon Flowers Memorial Fund, c/o Norval Sells, Rt. 3, Box 74, Fort Lavaca, TX 77959.
